Hoover Train, Cumberland, Md., Nov. 1 (A.P.).—The basis of progress, of all advance in this country, must be its continual prosperity, Herbert Hoover tonight told an enthusiastic audience that greeted him here en route to his California home to vote.

Within an hour after he had been cheered by a throng at Union Station in Washington, the Republican presidential candidate was greeted by several thousand persons at Brunswick, Md., where a special stop w a made in order that he might appear for a minute or two on the rear platform with Mrs. Hoover.

From Brunswick the nominee was taken into West Virginia to find at Martinsburg a cheering throng which not only filled the space immediately around the station but was banked on a nearby hillside.

The candidate shook hands with scores who pressed around his car, but postponed the beginning of his rear platform speaking campaign until his train had crossed back into Maryland and reached Cumberland.

Gives Thanks for Greeting.

There was another roar from the microphone. Preliminary to his prepared address he thanked the Marylanders for their greeting.

"I do wish to express my appreciation of this fine evidence of your generosity and this touching reception," he said, adding that he saw in the crowd some members of the train crew and some other railroad men.

"I think I ought to tell them I am grateful to them," he said. "During the past seven and a half years since I took office I have made the round trip back and forth to my home in California more than ten times. I made my first trip for mid to Organia the Prohibition Amendment and the Prohibition Amendment and the Smith Independent Organizations of the last 25 years I have crossed as often, sometimes, as two and three times a year.

"I have come to think of this strip of railroads across the middle of America as my own main street, on which I made my journeys from my homeward going and coming.

Relates Personal Experience.

"Few persons are so much indebted to railroads and ship crews as an I in all these years I have never seen a wreck or an accident. I am living evidence of the care and responsibility of trainmen."

Deviating here from his text, Hoover for the first time in the campaign related a personal experience to emphasize this point.

"The lossest I ever came to an accident was during the World Warwhille I was working in Belgaum," he said. "I was crossing the North Sea on a boat on which I had crossed a number of times. The steward ordinarily did not collect for the measis at the time they were served, but wasted until the passage had been completed before asking payments.

"To my surprise on this particular."

"To the time form the first proposed to the care and responsibility of trainmen."

Wizard Sees Return to Steam-Generated Electricity Near Load Centers, Due to High Cost of Transmission. Engineers Agree With Statement.

New York, Nov. 1 (A.P.) —Thomas A. Edison, in a statement through the engineers' national Hocver committee, differed tonight with those who would make water power a political issue. When water power is analyzed "with even the barest knowledge of engineers' remaining political controversies."

"Water power seems to have been adopted as the shibboleth of politics in this campaign," he said, "and the public is at a loss to know what it is all about."

Asserting that coal mined to date is less than 1 per cent of the available supply, he contended that when the supply was, exhausted water power would be inadequate to meet the deal mand for electrical energy, and posterity then would have to develop substitutes.

"The cost of developing water power in the Sierra Mountains and transmitting it to the cities on the seaboard has become so great that it is now cheaper and more satisfactory to develop the

"The vituperative outcry of the Tammany slander mongers is the most despicable exhibition that this country has ever witnessed of a bigotry that knows no bounds in decency.

He has had the effrontery to do it continuously and designedly, wearing always a plous face. BRANDS POPE INTOLERANT

Richmond, Va., Nov. 1 (A.P.).—Bishop James Cannon, jr., of the Methodist Episcopal Church South, in a letter to Gov. Alfred E. Smith, made public today, said Chairman Raskob of the Democratic national committee himself Democratic national committee himself had injected the religious issue into the campaign as a "deliberate effort to throw out a political smoke screen." If flatfly challenge you to meet the issue of tolerance," Bishop Cannon said declaring that Gov. Smith had attempted to brand his opponents as "intolerant bigots."

"The Asheville conference did not inject the religious issue into this political campaign," he said. "Prohibition and Tammany were sufficient reasons to oppose you, but you, for political purposes, emphasized the religious issue. Having raised the issue we have the right to demand that you answer the questions which I ask:

"First. Do you believe that all but Roman Catholics are 'strangers to the hope of life and salvation."

"Second. Do you repudiate the authoritative encyclical statement of Popes Gregory, Plus. Leo and Dr. Ryan concerning the union of church and state, Masonry, Bible societies and the Y. M. C. A?"

Bishop Cannon quoted in connection the his first question what he said as an encyclical issued last January y Pope Pius XI, as follows: "Furthermore, in this one church of Christ (Roman Catholic) no man can be or remain who does not accept, recognize and obey the authority of Peter and his legitimate successors (the Roman pontiffs). The Catholic Church alone is keeping the true worship. This is the fount of truth, this is the house of faith this is the temple of God. any man enter not here, or if any man go forth from it he is a stranger to the hope of life and salvation."
"Probably no more intolerant statement has ever been made." Bishop Cannon said, telling the governor at the same time that he believed Roman Catholics would be saved and asserting that he had personally been helped by Catholic sermons and hymns.
"I ask you to state whether you do actually agree with this encyclical, 'Infailible' declaration—that all but Romans are strangers to the hope of salvation." Bishop Cannon said. "If you do not you are not a loyal Roman Catholic; if you do you are more intolerant than those whom, for political purposes, you denounce as intolerant." Bishop Cannon said Gov. Smith's quoted statement at Baltimore that he was a loyal son of the church, and that he adhered to the American principle of separation of church and state were flatly contradictory.

Youth Suddenly Silent.

Touth Suddenly Silent.

The correspondents who interviewed Terhune wanted to know how Dr. Eckener had taken the discovery of a stowawy aboard his ship. To this question Terhune, who had been talking freely, merely answered, "He smiled," and then suddenly became less communicative, saying, with a show of mystery, that he had "an arrangement" with Dr. Eckener which did not permit him to talk.

Passengers on the dirigible were unanimously enthusiastic over their woyage. The only woman aboard, Mrs. Clara Adams, of Tannerville, Pa., asked to rest with the announcement she was "exhausted," but the men, Hans Nolde, of Reading, Pa.; Donald Casto, of Columbus, Ohio; Paul Marko, of Brocklyn, and Joseph Jessel, of New York, said they had the time of their lives "We were so excited last night we stayed up and played cards as we traveled across France." one of them said when the Graf Zeppelin was brought to its hangar at 7.06 this morning (1.06 a. m. Eastern standard time), it had completed a round trip across the Atlantic of more than 10.000 miles, with several record-breaking features.

Its crossing from Lakehurst to Friedrichshafen was made in 71 hours and 12 minutes, approximately four hours less than the former transatlantic record, held by the British R-34 from its trip in 1919 over a considerably lesser distance. Actually the Graf Zeppelin beat its own mark here for it arrived at Friedrichshafen 68 hours and 56 minutes after its departure from Lakehurst, but awaited dawn to land.

Meanwhile, Miss Knask, although informed that she probably can not live, persisted in her story that she went to the village hall Monday night, found it deserted and after spending the night there decided on self-immolation to prove her spiritual faith, and on Tuesday morning removed and burned her lothes and then thrust her legs and arms, one after the other, into the live coals of the village hall furnace until they were burned to the bone.

Today an intimation by Mr. Smith that Hitchcock might be taken into custody met with excited protests from the girl, who declared such a move would be "rank injustice" and that no one could understand because they did not understand the spiritual.
Chicago psychiatrists have been divided on the matter of whether it would have been physically possible for the girl to inflict the burns herself.
Efforts also were made today to trace telephone calls the girl made Monday night from Highland Park before going to take Bluff. One of them was found to have been to the Viliage Hall at Lake Bluff, but was not completed.

THE VOTER'S CHOICE.

In the midst of the tumult and the shouting the average citizen may have noticed that he is still compelled to earn his living by his own efforts. Campaign excitement is a delightful diversion, and the rainbows pictured by campaign orators are dazzling, but the certainty of making a good living is after all the most important consideration. The wheels of industry must grind away after the election; the worker must work if he would get ahead in the world.

With all the talk, no one has shown that the average citizen would be better off by making a change in the policies that have brought about prosperity since the war. Industry and labor are protected against the onslaught of outside industry and labor. Americans monopolize their own market, which is worth more to Americans than all other markets combined. This populous and hungry country is an enormous consumer, not only because it is populous and hungry, but because its inhabitants are employed at good wages and can afford to buy food, clothes, homes, and automobiles. The fundamental cause of prosperity is the safeguarding of the American market for Americans. A change in the protective tariff or in the immigration law would greatly help needy foreign industries and labor, but it would be at the expense of American citizens.

Strenuous efforts are being made to induce voters to overlook the main issue and to throw away their votes on some side issue. Why should a voter disturb the conditions that keep him prosperous for the sake of voting for or against some person or some minor question? Would any of these minor questions be settled more effectively by bringing about business stagnation and unemployment?

In time of peace nothing is so important as the maintenance of good times. During war, the Nation's defense takes precedence of all other questions, but during peace the most important question facing every voter is the question of his own and his family's welfare. If he can make clear in his own mind the bearing which governmental policies have upon his welfare he is justified in supporting the policies that make for his welfare. After having solved that problem, he can consider minor questions for what they are worth. As the policies that promote his welfare are those that help his fellow citizens also, there is no selfishness in voting for such policies.

It is easy to break down and hard to build up. Prosperity is difficult to attain, because it is a building process. Adversity is easy to obtain. It is merely a wrecking process. Experiment in government calls for extreme caution. The inovice in statesmanship is attracted by novel suggestions, but the experienced statesman knows that inventions in the art of government have been very few during the centuries. Plain, tested rules, such as thrift, economy, riddance of debt, and living within one's means are as indispensable in government as in private life. There is no substitute for pros-

The United States needs at its head a President who will not trade away prosperity for glittering experiments. The people are busy with their own affairs. their national affairs. the country's welfare in trust; he can not gamble with it.

The candidate best qualified to act as trustee for the people of the United States is Herbert Hoover.

PENNSYLVANIA ELECTRIFICATION.

The Pennsylvania Railroad has authorized the electrification of its entire service, freight and passenger, between New York City and Philadelphia. The lines between New York and Newark already are electrified, as are those between Philadelphia and Wilmington, and the project now authorized contemplates electrification of the lines between Newark and Wilmington. Three hundred and twentyfive miles of line and 1,300 miles of track are involved, and the total cost will run to $100,000,000. Work will be begun shortly and electrification will be completed in seven or eight years. Thereafter, if conditions warrant it, the project of electrifying the road's entire 11,000 miles of trackage will be planned section by section.

Decision to embark upon the project followed a comprehensive study of present traffic conditions and future traffic possibilities. It appears to engineers of the Pennsylvania Railroad, for example, that the metropolitan area of New York, by 1950, will contain 30,000,000 persons. With increased public demand for transportation already constituting a problem, the Pennsylvania undertook to ascertain how best it could provide additional facilities. This led to the opening up of the whole question of electrification. The immediate factors that influenced the decision to proceed at this time are described by President Atterbury as the "greater economy of electric traction as compared to steam operation in dense traffic territories, the growth of the Southern passenger business, the increasing density of both freight and passenger business on the Eastern lines and the probability that in the future more rapid movement would be required, and the desirability of using electric traction in connection with the construction of new passenger terminals at Philadelpia and Newark."

With public interest captured for the moment by the expansion of air transport it is significant that a great railway has authorized the expenditure of a huge sum to provide for future needs. Pennsylvania engineers, looking ahead to 1950 and beyond, offer convincing testimony to support the conviction that the railways of the country will continue to be the backbone of the transportation ma-These same engineers already have adapted the airplane to their own uses, but they realize that aircraft probably will be utilized as feeders to the railroad, or to supplement or speed its service, and that the heavy traffic of the future will continue to be moved upon rails.

POE'S "TAMERLANE."

Neither the Library of Congress, the Harvard Library nor the Boston Public Library is fortunate enough to own a copy of the "Tamerlane" of Edgar Allan Poe, in the edition a copy of which has just been sold by a Boston bookseller to an Indianapolis collector for a sum in excess of $20,000. One copy is in the British Museum, and only four other. copies are known to exist. The copy sold. bearing the full title of "Tamerlane and Other Poems, by a Bostonian," bears the marks of personal diffidence in its description. Poe or the publisher did not think that his own name would carry such weight of appeal as to ascribe its author by residence to the "Athens of America." A hundred years ago the work was brought out, in the year 1827, and in that span of time the literary worth of the conception of that finely tuned brain has advanced to the sum that comes close to being a high water value for any book of which several other copies are yet to be had. The book which has changed hands at the splendid figure is described as a clean copy, unmarred and unsoiled. Evidently it had been long treasured until it finally found its way to the bookseller's shelves. Had Poe's contemporaries adequately appreciated his genius there would have been more of his books purchased and read in those early days.

FAILURE OF RUBBER MONOPOLY.

Wednesday marked the end of Great Britain's attempt to control the price of rubber through restricting its production. In 1922 the restriction scheme was imposed by legislation, and it immediately boosted the world price of rubber. Almost immediately, however, counter forces became active. Dutch interests, which are second only to those of Britain in the production of crude rubber, seized the opportunity to increase their acreage. In the United States Secretary Hoover sounded a warning against the British rubber monopoly. On his advice reclaiming rubber became commercially important, and leading manufacturers got under way projects calculated to make them ultimately independent of foreign supplies. Great Britain came to realize that rubber restriction was not working to her advantage, and early this year the government announced that it would bring the experiment to a close.

Withdrawal of the restriction scheme vesterday had little effect upon the price of rubber, for its effect had long been discounted. Officials of the New York Rubber Exchange do not believe that the end of restriction will have any appreciable effect upon the market in the future. In addition to the fact that the effect had been discounted, they point out that, although stocks are about the same as they were last year, consumption is now 50 to 65 per cent ahead of production.

It is not likely, however, that British rubber growers will ever fully recover from the effect of the legislation. Abandonment of the restriction act in a way constitutes a double ictory for the American manufacturer and onsumer, for not only will the United States be able to buy British colonial rubber on a fair commercial basis from this time forward. but it will be able, within a few years, to supply so much of its own rubber that any similar attempt in the future would be ineffective. The current Review of Reviews points out that in Liberia the Firestone Co. already has planted much of the 100,000 acres leased from the government in 1926. In Brazil, Henry They expect their President to look after Ford is creating the world's greatest rubber farm, of more than 4,500,000 acres, upon which planting soon will begin. The United States Rubber Co. has increased its holdings in the Dutch East Indies and Malaya to 135, the Goodyear Co. now controls 50,000 acres in' Sumatra. These companies, the article points out, will be in a position, when their holdings are fully developed, to supply the total rubber needs of the United States, which both manufactures and consumes three-quarters of the world's rubber products.

These plantations will come into production before many more years. With America producing its own rubber, there will remain, of course, the rest of the world to be supplied by British and Dutch interests. The rest of the world, however, can not begin to take their total output. There is every reason to believe that the British restriction measure has done irreparable damage. The episode points an important lesson to those who seek to control prices of commodities by holding back the supply.

LOCAL GAS RATES.

The demand of the Washington Gas Light Co. for a revaluation, as the basis for demanding an increased rate for gas, does not make a hit with the public. The company has made good profits ever since its organization in 1848, and its stock is now 400 per cent above par. The items included in the new valuation as proposed by the company are absurd, if they are to be used for rate-making purposes An Island in the Potomac which cost the company $72,785 is now valued at $364,000. Are the gas consumers of Washington to pay a higher rate because the company has made money in real estate?

The "going concern" value of the company s fixed at $3,000,000. This represents a contribution from the public. Is the public now to be taxed extra because it has made the ompany profitable?

The book cost of the company's plant is $14,000,000, and its present valuation is $16,-000,000. The company asks the Public Utility Commission to fix the valuation at about $30, 000,000. Once this valuation has been fixed the company will ask for rates that will yield a return of, say, 7 per cent on the swollen valuation. With the gas rate already higher than that of Baltimore, the Washington public ees no merit in the company's petition

NOCTURNAL GOLF.

A year or so ago an experiment was con ducted on a New York golf course with a luminous pall with which it was possible to play nocturnal golf. The experiment was reported at the time to have been successful, yet no manufacturer has as yet come forward with a luminous ball with which the length of the golf day can be extended. There exists a great need for such a ball. If golf could be played after dark the pressure upon overcrowded courses would be relieved. Men who can not take an afternoon off to engage in the ancient and honorable game would be glad to avail themselves of the opportunity of playing after business hours.

Upon the golf course of St. Andrews there was played this week a nocturnal match. With the aid of torches, flash lights, Japanese lanterns and skyrockets, four players of con siderable prominence negotiated the first and eighteenth holes without losing a ball. In London, however, the event is looked uponwith amusement—as a prank rather than a scientific experiment. But there was a practical aim in view.

Golf is the mainstay of health and wellbeing to innumerable hard-working men. It would be a blessing if means could be devised by which those tied to their offices during daylight could exercise at the bunkers and traps of golf courses after dusk.

AIRSHIP COMMERCE.

With the Graf Zeppelin safely at rest in its nangar at Friedrichshafen, air commerce has recorded another important advance. The first commercial flight from Europe to the United States and return possibly should not be rated as completely successful, but nevertheless it served to demonstrate the fact that with certain refinements the dirigible is a thoroughly practicable agent for commercial transportation over great distances. It is likely that the Graf Zeppelin will become the forbear

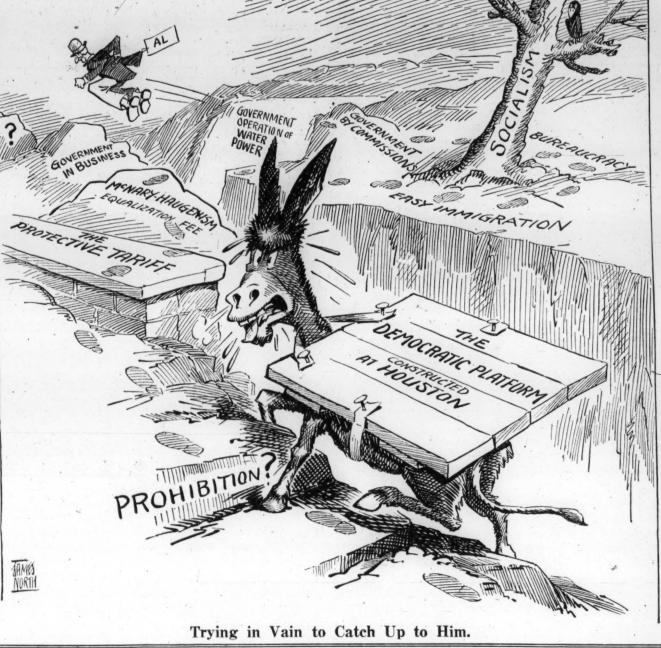

Dr. Eckener is pleased with the performance of the ship. The engineer has done his part. he says, by demonstrating that transatlantic travel by dirigible is mechanically correct and practicable, and now it is up to the banker to furnish money to make the transatlantic dirigible an everyday thing. He says further that Zeppelins of the future must have more powerful power plants so that they will be better able to cope with adverse winds: but he points to the fact that the Graf Zeppelin outrede storms of considerable proportions as indicating that its design and construction are basically correct.

American capital must soon decide whether or not, upon the basis of the performance of the Graf Zeppelin, it is willing to enter into the construction of commercial dirigibles. The fact that the Graf Zeppelin earned some $340. 000 on the trip, with attendant expenses estimated at not more than $150,000, does not mean, of course, that every transatlantic airship would immediately become a great moneymaker. The margin between earnings and expenses was great enough, however, to indicate that even with the element of novelty removed it would be possible to operate airshins in transatlantic trade at a profit, and there no longer can be any doubt that air travel will become popular as its advantages are demonstrated.

Under any circumstance dirigibles built with American capital should be registered under the American flag, as part of the American Samuel Goldwyn, motion picture producer, has suggested that there be established an annual award for outstanding achievement in the field of motion picture production. Mr. Goldwyn has offered to raise whatever fund may be necessary for the purpose. The motion picture, says Mr. Goldwyn, should be recognized as an art capable of exerting a profound influence for good upon the great mass of people. A premium placed upon all that is ennobling and enlightening could not fail to exert a good influence upon motion picture products made in the United States. Mr. Goldwyn has made an excellent suggestion.

This is illustrated by the novel proposal upon which the people of that State will vote next month to issue $20,000,000 of bonds for the prootion of fishing and hunting. Some of the faulty habits most frequently encountered and the frequency of each were as follows; Errors in diet, 60; excessive smoking, 16; no exercise during winter, 40; insufficient rest and sleep, 12; chronic constipation, 18. In about one year, one-half of these faulty habits had been corrected.

Other defects frequently found and and overweight: defective vision: defec hearing; cavities in teeth; bad tonlow or high blood pressure; corns poor arches; calluses and bunions; cor-rectible posture defects. More than one-third of these were corrected. Oneand of the weight abnormalities were made right; in more than one-third the blood pressure became normal; and in 8 out of 29 foot and posture irregularities were made normal.

In bringing this about no compulsion was used. Perhaps the force of example was more potent than was advice in securing results. The alm was to get each man to correct one faulty habit or minor defect a year, and this much was generally accomplished.

Make up you mind how South bid before you read the comment that follows:

THE BIDDING.

In the olden days there were many animals which had armor around their heads or bodies. The "armor" was made up of bone or shell. One such animal was the three-horned dinosaur. "Three Horns," as we may call him for short, had a thick, bony covering about his head. He was a giant fellow, and his horns were mighty strong and sharp; but long since his race died out.

An armadillo—count the bands.

In modern times there are still animals which have armor as their chief guard against enemies. We may mention clams, shalls, oysters and turtles.

The Spotlight By JOHN J. DALY

All the way from Los Angeles come lost Richard Carle, the comedian, re-membered for that old song, "I Picked They Say Only Peaches Grow!"

"Madga," "English Nell," "Becky Sharp" and "Mrs. Warren's Profession."
At one time Barker was associated as joint manager of the Court Theater in London and later at the Savoy. For a time he was identified with the repertory project of Charles Frohman at the Duke of York's Theater. In 1915, Barker announced bis retirement from the stage to go back to playwriting, having had several plays successfully produced in England.

Helen Granville Barker is well known by several volumes of poetry which have appeared under her name. She also edited "Folk Songs &rom the Spanish," and received from Queen Victoria of Spain the insignia and ribbon of Maria Luisa.

From the Bookerle, in Clarendon Vi., comes an interesting note over the signature of Mrs Edwin Hadley Smith and having to do with an unusual play staged here during war times. The letter follows:

"Referring to your column in The Post in which you speak of 'he novelty of a two-part play produced by Al Woods, with Fay Bainter and John Halliday, you may be interested in the fact that just such a 'play was put on here in 1918. This was "Under Orders," by an Englishman, Berte Thomas, which played Poli's in Washington the week of August 12, 1918 Effie Shannon and Shelley Hull were the two players who carried the burden of an entire three-act play 'twas a war play and portrayed twir. sisters, each with a son, one an English officer and the other a Jerman In this way each player was seen in a dual role. Later in the season. "Under Orders" was put on in Nev York, I believe, at the Ethinge Theater. Answer: The custom of turning down the corner of a card never had anything to do with the sort of visit paid.
It simply meant that the person who left bae card had been there in person;
that the card had not been a mere formality, left, perhaps, by a footman.
Many well-bred people still follow the custom. 1300 "GEE"

Since so many are interested in the play at Poli's, Sierra's "The Kingdom of God," starring Ethel Barrymore, a word on Helen and H. Granville Barker, the adapters, may not be amiss. Granville Barker once played with the Ben Greet Players, familiar to Washingtonians years ago. A Londoner by birth, he once toured with Mrs. Patrick Campbell, also acting for the Elizabethan Stage Society, in "Richard II," and later in Shaw's "Candida." Of the famous dramas in which he has appeared are "Under the Red Robe," "Madga," "English Nell," "Beck," Sharp" and "Mrs. Warren's Profession." At one time Barker was associated as joint manager of the Court Thaater in London and later at the Savoy. For a time he was identified with the repertory project of Charles Frohman at the Duke of York's Theater.

Special to The Washington Post. New York, Nov. 1.—The stock market staged a strong comeback today that more than canceled the losses of yesterday. Net gains extended to 26¼ points, a large number of them being upward of 4 points, and a score of issues established new high price levels for the year or longer. Eight new lows were touched in the early trading. The day's turnover again was around 3,500,000 shares.

one group after another was taken up and given a boost. Railway shares were brought to the front in the afternoon under the leadership of Union duarter was more impressive than at any time in the past month.

The nervousness which had been apparent in most of the sessions of the week was entirely missing today, although buying enthusiasm never was rampant. The undertone of quiet confidence was unmistakable. Any one who wanted to buy had to bid.

The first hour was a period of persistent strength under the leadership of Westinghouse. American International, American Radiator, Union Carbide, Atlantic Refining, International Nickel, Anaconda and Kennecott. The last three all sold at the peak prices. Most of the other standard industrials gained only slowly, but Chrysler, one of the favorite butts recently, ran up sharply, closing with a net gain of 2½. General Motors advanced quietly but steadily under buying in large blocks, from a low for the day of 218¼ to 223, and closed at 222½, up 4½ points net. Practically all of the other motor and motor accessory issues scored substantial advances on the day. United States Steel common advanced for a net gain of 2½; Ludlum, 2½, and Republic, 1.

The coppers and oils were taken up strongly in the afternoon. Sinclair Consolidated was boosted to a new high at 42, which was the closing price, a net gain of 5 points, in a turnover of 433 106 shares.

New Business Record Expected.

The National City Bank's bulletin, which is about as conservative in its opinions as any authoritative organ, stated today that "The year has brought ateadily improving business until it now appears likely that the aggregate physical volume of production and trade will exceed that of any previous year." In the face of such optimism as this it is hard to persuade holders of stock to sell, even though they think present values inflated.

Announcement of the plan for electrification of a large part of its line projected by the Pennsylvania Railroad did not tend to stimulate any great increase in interest in the securities of the road itself. Selling ex-dividend, the stock moved within a narrow range. Although no contracts have been let as yet. Wall street took it fer granted that Westinghouse would get a good share of the order from stension of Pennsylvania Railroad electrification.

The stock moved mywards and description of the condition of the con insylvania Railroad electrification The stock moved upward, as did also Public Service, the latter on the belief that power contracts will go there.— Sears Roebuck and Montgomery Ward Sears Roebuck and Montgomery Ward were better on publication of October sales reports. Sears reported a gain of 26.3 per cent and Montgomery Ward of 23.2 per cent, as compared with the same month of last year. For the ten months the increases are 17.4 and 12.1 per cent, respectively.

Sinclair Consolidated again was the subject of a deal of conjecture as it rose rather spectacular to the highest levels reached since 1920. The tremendous scale of operations in that issue lent credence to reports going the rounds that a new group had taken over the market destinles of the tock, including, among others, A. W. Cutten, Chicago operator, who only recently was elected to the directorate of the company.

Weakness of sterling in the forenoon Weakness of sterling in the forencon was the chief feature of foreign exchange dealings, the dollar rising to $4.84% in London and the sterling rate here going as low as 4.8413-16, but there was a recovery in the afternoon, the rate fluctuating between $4.84% and $4.8415-16. The market as a shole was not particularly active, probacly owing to the widespread All Saint's Day observance in European countries other than Holland and Germany. Dutch exchange was fairly many. Mercury

METALLIC mercury was first known to man about 300 B.C. During the Middle Ages it was a subject of great discussion and experiment on the part of the alchemists. Mercury or quicksilver remains a liquid at one hundred degrees belowzero Fahrenheit. Therefore they thought that it must be the essence of all metals.

But true knowledge comes only in the light of thorough investigation and men have come to know the truth about mercury. Today it is most valuable in the refining of gold and it is extensively used in medicine and in thermometers.

The true knowledge of investments will lead you, as it has done so many others, to the First Mortgage Notes issued by Swartzell, Rheem & Hensey Co. You may guess about this one and speculate about that one, but true knowledge will lead you to select these notes, for about them is no guess work, no speculation - nothing haphazard. They have been safe for over fifty-nine years, they are safe today, and will be safe in the days to come.

Steps of Progress

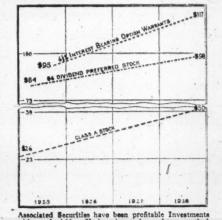

Seasoned Management

The same executives who for many years have supervised Associated properties have also been responsible for the large growth in recent years. The thirty-two major executives average 25 years of public utility experience.

Dividends have been paid continuously since 1852, with the exception of six years, by the oldest group of properties of the Associated System—now the New York State Electric Corporation and its constituent companies.

Of the 120 Chief Executives and department heads, 42 have served the Associated System over 20 years, 21 over 25 years, 11 over 30 years and 3 over 35 years.

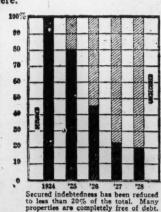

In its financial policies the Company has the counsel of internationally known bankers whose experience parallels the entire history of the electric light and power industry.

Diversified Grouping of Properties

Utility systems have two types of property groupings—(1) contiguous grouping of adjoining properties, (2) diversified grouping of separate properties. The latter plan followed by the Associated System (see map) has the advantage of diversification in local industries and business conditions and of broadening the scope of public good will. Unsatisfactory conditions in isolated localities have but little effect against generally favorable conditions elsewhere.

Reduction in Funded Debt

At the present time, mortgage obligations are only 10% of the entire capitalization. Over $70,000,000 of underlying securities have been retired since 1925. Exchanges, conversions and redemptions are reducing the remainder still further.

5½% Convertible Investment Certificates are offered at 99 under "Rights"

Subscription rights sent to stockholders have been and are being extensively exercised. Subscriptions can be made and rights to subscribe can be procured from your security dealer, bank or the undersigned.

Tech-Western Clash in

New Men Strengthen Ahearn's Team for Game Today.

Brownfield Is Threat; Tech Has Edge in Experience.

R EINFORCED by the additions of several piayers who have crased scholastic deficiencies, the Western High School eleven will take the field against Tech today in the high school series game with a much stronger team than that which faced Eastern last week and was defeated, 6 to 0.

Eastern last week and was defeated.

With only thirteen eligible men then, one of which was a back field man forced to play on the line, Western will have several new men today who are expected to add strength in all departments. Especially will the Ahearn-coached team be bolstered in the back field, where Eddie Brownfield will perform at one of the half back positions. Other new faces will be Cox, Grieve, Cook and Draper on the line.

Great things are expected of Brownfield, who flashed so prominently during the latter part of the series last year. It will be Tech's business to stop this player. Many will remember his long, broken field running last year when he electrified the high school unat team to a standstill during the greater part of the game.

Tech, acknowledged by many as the favorite to win the title, will depend upon the same line-up which so handily beat Business recently. With the Tech-Eastern game the last of the series, Coach Hardell is not making any predictions.

Hardell, however, is confident his team will be able to survive its remaining games, including to-day's. He is not anticipating an easy battle with Western in view of the scores of Tech-Western games of the past five years. Tech has beaten Western only twice in that period, in 1923 by a 7-to-0 count and last year, 6 to 0.

In other seasons tie games have resulted with a 7-7 deadlock in 1924, a scoreless tie in 1925 and a 6-6 game in 1926.

The game promises to be interest-ing. Tech has the edge because of its experience with its squad made up of almost wholly veteran material.

WINNER OF $25,000 PIMLICO INAUGURAL STAKE

BERT SHOTTER, crack quarter miler and relay man of the Georgetown University Track Team, was expelled from the squad yesterday, following an altercation with one of his team mates at the completion of the quarter mile run in the interclass track meet at the Hilltop.

Shotter ran a losing race and at the completion of the distance accosted one of his team mates whom he claimed pushed him at the first turn. A heated argument between the two that ensued attracted the attention of Hilltop officials and Shotter, who threatened to settle the matter puglistically was ordered to leave the field and to turn in his uniform permanently.

Shotter is a junior and was regarded as a certain member of the mile relay team on which he ran last year. He was also counted upon as a potential point winner in both the outdoor and indoor intercollegiates in the quarter mile.

Byrd lost his best reserve end when Warren Rabbitt was hurt in practice, and Jack Keenan, regular tackle, was injured in the second play of the North Carolina game on October 5. Both are out for the season. Keenan's loss necessitated the using of Lombard, reserve end and tackle, as a regular in the latter position.

The McLean Stable's Neddle has proven his high quality frequently, with his last poor race thrown out, and he is looked upon as one of the most potential of the candidates. Victor Emanuel's Friar Cliff has been steadily improving and he is another that is sure to run all the way.

Walter J. Salmon's Dr. Freeland looked almost a sure winner of the Spalding Lowe Jenkins Memorial at Laurel last Saturday, but he falled in that running, though he may come back with a good race tomorrow. He is another well fitted to race a mile.

Both Justinian and Comstokery, the Greentree Stable pair, measure up to the running and there is a chance that some of the others will prove troublesome. Altogether the renewal of this rich prize should be a thoroughly good one.

Then there is Walter M. Jefford's Constitution, the brother of Mars, that made his racing debut today and won over the six furlongs distance in a fashion to suggest real class.

De Pauw Team Is Lucky

With Cagle Under Wraps.

Members of the DePauw Eleven, which plays West Point Saturday, have very little in the way of pleasure to look forward to, but their lot will not be as unhappy as it might be. The Army will keep Red Cagle under wraps, saving him for future games. Red's shoulder was bruised last week when a Yale player accidentally touched him as he was flitting through the Blue line, but he is in condition to play, and undoubtedly will take a workout in the DePauw game. If the Westerners do not think it is a break for them that Cagle is not going against them loaded for bear, they should ask the lads up New Haven way. Any Yale man will tell them that tackling Cagle is like trying to snatch a sportive gold fish from a city reservoir while wearing 12-ounce boxing gloves that haven't been tied on properly.

Johnny Risko Bounces Back Into Heavy Tournament.

The way plans for the heavyweight elimination tournament are shaping up it begins to look as if the only one that will be eliminated will be the fans. Johnny Risko, the "rubber man." of Cleveland, it is announced by Station McArdle, of Madison Square Garden, has been signed to meet the winner of the Paulino-Von Porat affair next Monday evening. "Regardless," says the announcer, unfeelingly, "of how Risko fares in that bout, he will meet Hansen in January."

"Regardless," says the announcer, unfeelingly, "of how Risko fares in that bout, he will meet Hansen in January."

Nor is that all, much as it is. Risko is also under contract to fight Sharkey or some other perennial cauliflower in March. This seems like stretching the "rubber man" a little bit too far. Risko is a nice chap, but his company is bound to get boring in time. Why Babe Hunt, Les Marriner and some others of the more promising of the younger crop are not shown here is a mystery beyond the ken of this department.

"The fine young players," if they come through, undoubtedly will go the way of Alexander, Killefer, Bancroft, Meusel, Carlson, Wilson, Leach and other "fine young players" whom Mr Baker sold for cash as soon as they developed into stars. It may be a noble experiment that Mr. Baker has been trying in Philadelphia for a dozen years, but the fans there have given unmistakablie evidence that they tired long ago of watching him try it.

ALTIMORE, Md., Nov. I.—The Maryland Racing Commission to-day lifted the suspension of Jockey Eddie Ambrose, one of the riding stars of the American turf, who incurred the disciplinary action of the stewards during the last few days of the Laurel meeting last week.

The action of the commission followed an investigation of Ambrose's riding in "several races" at the Laurel track, referred to the State turf officials by Laurel's stewards. Although the specific charges brought against Ambrose were not made public, in today's decision the commission informed the jockey that he could resume riding immediately.

Dundee Gets $40,000

Offer to Fight Fields

San Francisco, Nov. 1 (A.P.).—Ancill Hoffman, matchmaker of the Monarch Athletic Club, announced today that he had telegraphed an ofter of $40,000 to Joe Dundee, welterweight boxing champion, to defend his title against Jackle Fields in a bout in San Francisco.

Hoffman said he had signed Fields for the bout.

Fields has proved himself as one of the best welterweights developed on the coast in many years. Last Tuesday the Los Angeles sensation, fighting in his home city, knocked out Sammy Baker, rugged New Yorker, in two rounds. A few weeks ago Fields gave young Jack Thompson, negro boxer, who knocked out Dundee in a nontitile bout, a terrific beating in San Francisco.

PitMLICO RACE TRACK, Md., Nov.

1.—Gifford A. Cochran's Genie galloped off with the mile and a half of the Riggs Memoria: Handicap this afternoon, easily leading home A. C. Schwartz's Sortie, the favorite, with Princess Tina, from the Audley Farm Stable, saving third from J. Smith's Royal Stranger. The $25,000 prize had a net value of $22,775 to the winner and in addition there went a trophy of $1,000 value. Genie was admirably ridden by the vetteran "Bill" Kelsay and he finished out the long gallop in 2:31 4-5. It was the opening day of the Maryland Jockey Club's twelve-day meeting and with ideal weather conditions the old course was filled to capacity for the occasion Henry McDaniel prepared Genie, winner of the Dwyer, in New York, and he made a thorough job of the training of the son of Man o' War There was no stage of the running that he was not mester of the situation and was no stage of the running that he was no tage of the running that he was not master of the situation and when Kelsay permitted im to go into the command at the end of the mile the result was no longer in doubt.

Golden Autumn, the lightweight of the party, which broke from the outside position, was rushed around until he was close after the leaders, and Kelsay had Geni under double wraps back of them and saving ground on the inner rall.

There was some delay at the post, but the field was sent away in excel-

Saving ground on the inner rail.

This was the order as the field raced by the stand the first time. Sortie was well back of the pace with Schreiner up. Rounding out of the front stretch Golden Auburn began to drop back and as Royal Stranger showed signs of weakening Kelsay eased his restraint slightly and Genle moved after Princess Tina, which was showing the way. It was apparent there that Genle could go to the front at the first asking, for Kelsay still had him in hand.

im in hand. It was in this fashion that the mile It was in this fashion that the mile was completed and there Schreiner made his first move with Sortie. The son of On Watch moved on the outside and he gave his followers a real thrill as he circled around. But he was through when he had disposed of Princess Tina. Genie was just galloping along in front of him and showing no signs of stopping.

Through the stretch it was no race, for Genle was clear and he galloped home the winner by four lengths. Sortie was easily best of the others when he beat Princess Tina eight lengths for the place, and Royal Stranger finished right at the tail of the filly.

Petes Wrack, Solace, Distraction, Lawley and Chancellor, the other starters, had cut no figure in the running. J. E. Widener's clever fencer, Fairmount, making his first appearance since last May, was a clever winner of the Monkton steeple chase when he galloped home twelve lengths in front of Coronel, Fairmount is the Widener reliance for the rich Manley Memorial to be run here on Saturday. In today's remance for the rich making Memorial to be run here on Saturday. In today's effort, Byers rated Fairmount under stout restraint the entire trip and at no stage of the journey did the result appear in doubt. Red Bridge was the one to follow the pace and he followed the leader to the twelfth jump where he lost his rider.

he won the second race. Back of him was a field of maidens. Constitution was ridden by McAtee and raced under stout restraint the first five furiongs. McAtee was content to let him rate along a couple of lengths off the leaders and he delayed making his effort until, well inside the furiong pole.

Ben Marshall, making a rapid pace from the break, ran his first 4 furiongs in 47.3-5 and was apparently going easy at the top of the home stretch, where it appeared as if he had his field soundly beaten. When McAtee released Constitution from restraint, however the big bay son of Man o' War simply bounded to the front and the finish found him going away.

C. Watters rode a cool race on Dinah Did Upset. The latter was a well-played favorite for the fourth race and she made good in handsome fashion when she beat Sun Broom by little over a length. Black Gertie was third. Sun Broom was the one to make the early pace and led for five of the six furiongs. Watters was sitting still on Dinah Did Upset and waiting until straightened out for the final run before making his effort. When cailed on Dinah Did Upset assumed command and at the finish was drawing away. Sun Broom beat Black Gertie a length and a quarter for the place.

William T. came from a long way back in the rffuning of the sixth race to get up in the last twenty yards to win going away by a half length from Maxiva. Tinita was third, beaten a neck for the place. Portia and Nursery Rhymes utran their opposition in the early stages and showed the way to the stretch turn where Tinita took command only to weaken in the final drive.

Here are a few points of superiority in this publication's Past Performances—the most complete and comprehensive ever offered to the public:

- I Date and number of race instead of index
- record for the distance, time of th winner, time of this particular horse.
- 3 Distance behind the winner at stretch call as well as finish—giving a quick index to the horse's ability to go a longer distance.
- 4 Speed rating and track variant. This gives the handicapper an instant guide to the exact handicap value of each race, as it
- shows the track speed as well as the speed of the individual horse on that particular
- 5 Weights and distances between horses in best company line.
- 6 Kind of race; whether allowance, claim ing, handicap, stake, etc.
- Record of each horse during current years; number of starts, firsts, seconds and thirds, and amount won.

BETTER HANDICAPPERS

DAILY RUNNING HORSE has always maintained its leadership in the selecting field, giving hundreds more winners than other publications. The handicapping staff has been strengthened and improved to get greater results than ever before. Their selections are grouped conveniently on a single page.

WORKOUTS

DAILY RUNNING HORSE publishes complete Workouts at all tracks, but in addition to this, Workouts of exceptional merit are marked with three stars and commented upon by the clocker.

FROM MARYLAND, Beau Brummel sends his Fractional Workouts-not just the final time for the distance but the time for the quarter, three furlongs, half-mile, etc., as well-according to the distance of the trial. The value of these Workout details to the close student of form cannot be overestimated.

Pimlico's $40,000 race for 2-year-olds will be run at the famous Baltimore course to-day. Thirteen are named to start. Width MTRUNG, winner of the Futurity at Belmont Park, is the logical favorite. He beat a better class field in the Belmont event and I see no reason why he will fail in this instance. George Odom, a master trainer, is handling the Marahal Field young-ster and he has brought him up to this race by slow stages, winning his last start, in the Oceanua Handicap at Jamaica, a couple of weeks ago.

Coupon bearer Bonds in denominations of $1,000 and $500, registerable as to principal, redeemable as a whole, or in part by lot, on any interest date on thirty days' notice, to and including October 1, 1938, at 103 and interest; thereafter to maturity at 101 and interest.

The Company will agree as provided in the First Mortgage to reimburse Bondholders for the amount of any personal property or income tax or taxes legally imposed upon them under the laws of any state or territory of the United States or the District of Columbia by reason of their ownership of any of the Bonds or the receipt by them of income derived therefrom, and paid by them, but not exceeding, for any calendar year, 5 mills per dollar of principal amount of Bonds in the case of personal property taxes and 6% of income in the case of income taxes.

A Sinking Fund will be provided, beginning April 1, 1933, in semi-annual installments, calculated to retire the entire issue at or before maturity

GUARANTY TRUST COMPANY OF NEW YORK, Trustee.

Mr. W. D. Comer, President of Columbia River Longview Bridge Company, summarizes his letter dated November 1, 1928 as follows:

Bridge: Columbia River Longview Bridge Company has been organized under the laws of Delaware for the purpose of constructing, operating and maintaining a toll bridge across the Columbia River, connecting Longview, Washington, and Rainier, Oregon, pursuant to an Act of Congress, approved January 28, 1927. It is estimated that the Bridge will be completed within two years so that the first full calendar year of operation will be 1931.

Bethlehem Steel Company has entered into a contract to construct the Bridge. By Guaranty Agreement with the Trustee under the First Mortgage, Bethlehem Steel Company will unconditionally guarantee payment of the principal, interest and sinking fund installments in respect of the Bonds until delivery of the fully completed Bridge in accordance with the Construction Agreement or until July 1, 1935, whichever is earlier. The present franchise requires completion of the Bridge on or before January 28, 1930. Provision will be made that, unless any necessary extensions of time for completion are obtained and the Bridge fully completed by January 28, 1935, Bethlehem Steel Company may thereupon be required, at the election of holders of one-fourth of the Bonds, or at the election of the holders of one-fourth of the Debentures of the Company, to pay all the Bonds and all said Debentures forthwith.

Territory: The Columbia River Longview Bridge will span the Columbia River about midway between Portland, Oregon, and the mouth of the River. The Bridge will be conveniently situated with respect to all the through north and south motor highways of the Pacific Coast region west of the Cascade Mountains and will open the quickest and most convenient through route for traffic between Western Washington and all points south.

Security: These Bonds, limited to $3,000,000, principal amount, will be, in the opinion of counsel, the direct obligation of Columbia River Longview Bridge Company, secured by a first mortgage on all the real property or interests therein now owned or hereafter acquired by the Bridge Company, including the above described Bridge, its approaches, and the Federal franchise in accordance with which it will be constructed and operated. The cost of the enterprise to the Bridge Company, including carrying charges during construction, financing expenses, and allowance for contingencies, has been estimated by Strauss Engineering Corporation, bridge engineers, to be at least $5,800,000. These Bonds will amount to less than 52% of such total cost.

Earnings: Messrs. Coverdale & Colpitts, Engineers, estimate that there should be available during the first year of operation net income, before interest, depreciation, and U. S. income taxes, of at least $430,000, or 2.20 times the maximum annual interest charges on this issue, and that during the first 5 years of operation annual net income on the same basis should average $506,275, or 2.60 times the average annual interest charges.

These Bonds are offered when, as and if issued and received by us, subject to allotment and to the approval of counsel for the Bankers, Messrs. Cravath, de Gersdorff, Swaine & Wood, and for the Company, Mr. Warren H. Lewis. It is expected that delivery in the form of Interim Receipts or Temporary Bonds will be made about November 16, 1928.

Price 991/2 and Accrued Interest To Yield 6.54% to Maturity $1,600,000 Fifteen Year Sinking Fund 7% Participating Gold Debentures; due October 1, 1943, are also being offered at 99 ½ and accrued interest, to yield 7.05% to maturity.

*Including 72,589 1/3 shares in Treasury, as of June 30, 1928. Mr. Samuel Robinson, President of American Stores Company, has summarized his letter regarding the Company as follows. A copy of this letter in full may be had upon request of the undersigned.

BUSINESS

"American Stores Company operates a chain of over 2500 grocery stores, being, in point of profits, the second largest grocery chain in the country. The stores are located in Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Delaware. Maryland, and New York, and in the District of Columbia. The Company was incorporated in March, 1917 to acquire the business and assets of four successful chain store concerns and control of a fifth which has since been merged. Each of these systems had then been established twenty-five years or more, the smallest comprising 122 stores. The management remained in the hands of individuals who had conducted the predecessor companies.

GROWTH

Gross sales for the past six years and the number of stores operated at the end of each year have been as follows:

VS:
Year	Stores	Gross Sales
1922	1376	$ 85,866,395
1923	1475	94,579,850
1924	1630	98,178,602
1925	1792	108,886,071
1926	1983	116,902,229
1027	2122	120 664 467

On September 29, 1928, the Company had 2536 stores in operation, having added 403 units, or over 18%, to those in operation at the beginning of the year. In the opening of new stores the management has consistently followed a conservative policy, which, we believe, has made for a sound growth, not only for the enterprise as a whole, but for each individual unit as well. Sales per store are unusually high.

MANUFACTURING AND PACKING

The Company has developed the manufacture and packing of a variety of food products, with an established and growing consumer demand for its brands as a basis. These activities include the manufacture of preserves, jellies, mayonnaise, extracts, catsup, amonia, and similar products, the packaging of tea, rice, cornstarch, vinegar, etc., the roasting of coffee, the canning of vegetables and fruits, the baking of bread and cake. During 1928 a wholly-owned subsidiary was and cake. During 1928 a wholly-owned subsidiary was organized to acquire a large plant for evaporating milk, located at Neillsville, Wis.

All of the Company's seven warehouses, seven bakeries, and manufacturing, packaging and packing plants, are owned in fee, either by the Company or by its wholly-owned subsidiaries, with certain insignificant exceptions.

PROFITS

The net profits of American Stores Company and subsidiaries, after all charges including adequate provision for depreciation, Federal taxes at the present rate, and after re-allocating certain excess reserves to the respective years in which they were created, as certified by Messrs. Barrow, Wade, Guthrie & Co., have been as follows:

Years Ended December 31	NetProfits (as above)	Treasury st of June 30,	ock a
1923 $5	5,676,853.86	$3.36
1924	5,524,577.63	3.86
1925	5,473,635.68	3.83
1926	7,775,917.68	4.60
1927	6,749,808.82	3.99

The management believes that the net profits for the first nine months of 1928 were at least as great as for the first nine months of 1927; and that the net profits for the year 1928 will be at least as great as for the year 1927.

The Company sells only for cash, and makes no deliveries.

BALANCE SHEET

The consolidated balance sheet of American Stores Company and subsidiary companies said December 31, 1927, after giving effect to the reduction of good will to $1.00, as certified by Messrs. Barrow, Wade, Guchris & Co., shows current assets of $24,091,922 as against current liabilities of $2,410,799, a ratio of almost 10 to 1. Cash amounting to $5,088,952 and marketable securifies at cost of $7,382,035 were over five times all liabilities. Net worth was $36,861,425."

FLEHARTY ATTACKS REALTOR'S FIGURES ON GAS PROPERTIES

Draws Admission From Carr Worth Is Less Because Business Is Nuisance.

$27,000,000 EXPLAINED AS "EVIDENCE OF VALUE"

Hearings of Utilities Board Adjourned to Wednesday; Luqueer Ends Testimony.

Arthur Carr, third member of the committee of three appointed by the Real Estate Board to appraise the Washington and Georgetown gas light companies' land, yesterday told the Public Utilities Commission that the estimate of $3,111,520.45 for land for which the gas companies paid only $766,968.58 not only was not excessive, but might have been fixed higher with justification.

Carr said that the water rights owned by the gas companies in connection with their plants on the Georgetown channel and the Anacostia River materially increased the value tee of three appointed by the

of those properties, but under cross questioning by Ralph B. Fleharty, peo ple's counsel, admitted that the wate rights held by the company were not transferable and could not be used for transferable and could not be used for any other purpose than-gas making. Carr's testimony and Fleharty's questioning developed that in both plants the value of the property was materially enhanced by the fact that the property was in a solid block and could not be divided by streets which have not been cut through, under the rights given the gas companies years ago. Fleharty developed the point that these rights, too, belonged to the gas companies alone for gas making purposes, and could not be transferred.

Admits Public Nulsance.

A gas plant is a public nulsance and deteriorates surrounding property, lowering its marketable value, Carr admitted. He had declared that the gas plant sites were ideal for industrial purposes, but under Fleharty's questioning, went on to say that even if the value he had placed on the sites as industrial sites was greatly reduced by the fact that the gas companies' rights were not transferable, the western plant site would still have a high value. gas plant is a public nulsance and

If the gas plant were eliminated entrely and water rights were eliminated and closed streets opened. Carr said, the plant site would be "an ideal site" for an apartment house and as such would have a higher value than that placed on t by the real estate committee, which appraised the land for the gas companies.

In a sermon describing the difficulties apartment house and as such would have a higher value than that placed on it by the real estate committee, which appraised the land for the gas companies.

R. O. Luqueer, consulting engineer employed by the gas companies, resumed the stand at the conclusion of Carr's testimony. He testified on depreciation, be said in substance, was represented by that money needed to restore property to its original condition. He cited several examples. A coat of paint would restore the huge gas tank built several years ago to its original condition at a cost of, perhaps, $300. There should be no depreciation allowance, he said, on a value which only required replacement of minor parts now and then. Pipes in side buildings and shielded from the elements do not depreciate, he added.

$27,000,000 Explained. Fleharty asked him what the more than $27,000,000 valuation he claimed for the Washington company repre-

That figure, Luqueer replied, did not represent value, but an evidence of value. Harrison Brand, jr., vice chairman of the commission, asked Luqueer whether he had a list of properties not "used or useful" which had been included in his valuation estimate. Luqueer said he had not prepared such a list. Brand asked him to do so and he said he would. Only properties "used or useful" may properly be included in a utility valuation under the law, and it is contended by those fighting the high valuation by the gas companies, that there are a number of high priced items included in their claims improperly.
